

KEEP KIDS LEARNING Advocate Toolkit

JANESVILLE COMMUNITY

2024

School Referendum Work Group

Dear Janesville Keep Kids Learning Advocate,

Welcome to partnering with Forward Janesville's 500+ member business partners and 100+ active volunteers to secure a brighter future for Rock County through its Keep Kids Learning initiative.

A thriving economy starts with a solid investment in education. Strong schools do more than educate—they prepare the future workforce, help recruit and retain employees, support local businesses, and contribute to a vibrant local economy. They also keep our neighborhoods safe, enhance property values, and ensure Rock County remains a desirable place to live and work. And well-resourced educational systems help prevent workforce shortages, rising business costs, and community decline.

Prioritizing education paves the way for business growth, community prosperity, and a stronger future for everyone. This is crucial for the success of our Keep Kids Learning initiative, which ensures that our communities in Janesville and Milton stay informed and ready to support local school referendums on Nov. 5, 2024.

To drive this vision forward, Forward Janesville has identified four key actions essential to ensuring Rock County's competitiveness and future prosperity through education:

1. Building Strategic Partnerships
2. Expanding Work-Based Learning
3. Championing Lifelong Learning
4. Securing Sustainable and Accountable Funding

But we can't do this alone. That's where you come in. Whether you're a Forward Janesville member or not, we're asking everyone to rally behind the critical task of securing sustainable and accountable funding for education.

We've developed this Advocate Toolkit to equip you with the resources you need to take meaningful action and help build collective support for the referendums in your community:

- Spread the Word: Share the importance of education with your network.
- Engage with Voters: Help everyone understand how to vote and the impact of their vote.
- Advocate for Funding: Support sustainable and accountable funding for our schools.

Please use this toolkit and share it widely.

Thank you for joining our effort to Keep Janesville Kids Learning!

Conversation Starters

Why are so many school districts, including ours, going to referendum?

It's a growing trend across Wisconsin and a statewide issue. By the end of 2024, two-thirds of the nine public school districts in Rock County will have gone to referendum, with one district having gone twice. Across the state, 241 referendum questions have been presented in 2024.

What happened to state funding for our schools?

The school funding model from the 1990s promised that the state would cover 66% of local education costs, but today, that contribution is down to about 53%, leaving Wisconsin's per-pupil spending to drop significantly—from 11th in the nation in 2002 to 25th in 2020.

What are the Janesville referendums about?

Janesville voters are being asked to support two referendums: a two-year, $14.5 million non-recurring operational referendum to replace the measure voters approved in 2020, which is set to expire soon, and a $151.8 million capital referendum to move forward with Phase 1 of its long-range facilities plan.

How much will it cost me?

The operational referendum has no new tax impact—voters will continue paying what they've been paying. The tax impact of the capital referendum will be $81 for every $100,000 of property value. So, owning a $300,000 home would mean an additional $243 per year, or about $20.25 per month, starting in the 2025-2026 school year.

What happens if the operational referendum doesn't pass?

Program cuts, staff reductions, and larger class sizes would most likely occur, adversely impacting student outcomes and their ability to be career-, college-, and community-ready.

What about the capital referendum—what happens if that doesn't pass?

If the capital referendum isn't approved, some of the district's critical needs will remain unmet.

Can you explain the difference between an operational and a capital referendum?

An operational referendum asks voters to approve funds for the district's everyday operational costs, like facility maintenance, supplies, utilities, and salaries. A capital referendum is for one-time expenditures, like constructing or enhancing buildings.

What does it mean when a referendum is non-recurring?

A non-recurring referendum is a temporary increase in taxes. Because the requested referendum replaces an expiring referendum, there is no new tax impact for voters.

Will every School District of Janesville school benefit from the capital referendum?

Every school in Janesville will see improvements if the capital referendum passes.

ENSURING a BRIGHT FUTURE for Janesville Students

While the School District of Janesville is a big source of pride, our district has both operational and facility needs that require the attention of our entire community. District leaders and the Board of Education believe the time has come to address these needs in a comprehensive manner that positions our schools and students for success now and in the years ahead.

On Tuesday, November 5, 2024, our community will vote on TWO proposed referendum questions:

1 A two-year, $14.5 million non-recurring operational referendum to renew the measure voters approved in 2020.

2 A $151.8 million capital referendum to address facility needs across our schools and move forward with Phase 1 of our long-range facilities plan.

WE'RE LISTENING!

During the facilities and operational planning process, we held numerous community and staff engagement meetings. Additionally, more than 3,200 residents responded to our community-wide planning survey. Community input is playing a significant role as we plan for the future.

Business Leader Outreach Script

[BUSINESS NAME] supports Forward Janesville's Keep Kids Learning initiative.

As Janesville business owners and leaders, we see that strong schools create a stronger workforce and employer opportunities. Supporting our schools isn't just about education—it's about ensuring a steady pipeline of well-prepared future employees, attracting and retaining top talent, and fostering a thriving business environment.

On Nov. 5, Janesville will be asked to VOTE on two crucial referendums in support of the School District of Janesville: a two-year, $14.5 million non-recurring operational referendum and a $151.8 million capital referendum. The operational referendum is essential for maintaining everyday operational costs, including staff salaries, utilities, and facility maintenance. The capital referendum will fund one-time expenditures, such as infrastructure enhancements that will benefit every school in our district.

I'm advocating for these referendums, and so is my business under Forward Janesville's Keep Kids Learning Initiative. We invite you to join us in backing this critical investment in Janesville's business future. Thank you!

[I, FAMILY NAME, OR ORGANIZATION'S NAME] support/s Janesville schools.

I know how much our schools mean to our kids and this community. They provide opportunities for our children to learn, grow, and thrive. Our schools are not just educational institutions—they're where we take pride in what we've built and set the foundation for future generations to succeed.

All of that is at risk if we don't say 'YES' on Nov. 5 to both School District of Janesville referendums. Saying no means larger class sizes, fewer learning and extracurricular opportunities, and the long-term plan for school security will be scaled back, including much-needed improvements to our special education classrooms. Plus, we could lose some of our best teachers to other districts where facilities are more secure and referendums are supported. When the time comes, please vote 'YES' and encourage your friends and neighbors to do the same. Thank you!

OPERATIONAL REFERENDUM

The district's current $14.5 million referendum expires in 2024-2025. The expiring operational referendum was approved by over 17,000 district voters in 2020. On November 5, voters will be asked whether to renew the $14.5 million referendum for an additional two years, through 2026-2027.

A renewed operational referendum would allow SDJ to:

Maintain small class sizes at key grade levels

Continue investments in classroom technology and supporting infrastructure

Attract and retain staff

Address costs related to insurance, supplies, transportation, and utilities

Invest in curriculum resources

Avoid reductions that will hinder the district's mission

Because the operational referendum would be in the same amount as the previous measure, there would be NO NEW ESTIMATED TAX IMPACT for district residents.

CAPITAL REFERENDUM

On November 5, our community will also vote on a CAPITAL REFERENDUM question, not to exceed $151.8 million, to address the district's prioritized facility needs. The $151.8 million proposal, detailed below, includes the most urgent Phase 1 facilities needs in the district's long-range facilities plan.

Aging electrical equipment

Needed safety measures

Special education spaces

$124.5 million

to repair or replace high-priority capital maintenance needs

$11.1 million

to enhance safety and security

$16.2 million

to improve special education classrooms

The estimated property tax impact of the capital referendum would be $81 per every $100,000 of assessed fair market property value. A home valued at $300,000 would see a property tax impact of $243 per year (or $20.25 per month), starting in the 2025-26 school year.

Online Conversations

Tips for Engaging on Social Media

Here's how you can make sure your online interactions are helpful and constructive:

1. Stick to Reliable Info and Credible Sources

Share content from trusted sources, accounts, and reputable news sites. Avoid sharing anything from sources you're unsure about—that way, we keep the message strong, credible, and clear.

- SDJ Referendum webpage
- Forward Janesville's Keep Kids Learning webpage

2. Keep It Friendly

A friendly and constructive tone is best. If things start getting heated or confrontational, stepping back is okay. Staying respectful keeps the referendum's focus on track with the right people.

3. Use the Facts

Make sure your points are based on solid facts. You've got great resources in this toolkit (pages 11 and 12) to back you up, so use them to keep your messages accurate and supported.

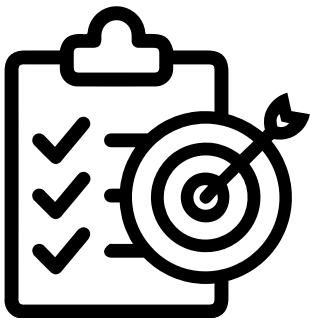

4. Don't Feed the Trolls

If you come across negative or inflammatory comments, it's best not to engage. Responding can often make things worse and distract from what matters. Instead, put your energy into positive discussions.

5. Encourage Good Conversations

Start meaningful conversations by asking questions, sharing your own experiences, and respectfully inviting others to share their thoughts.

GOAL: Lead 15-20 social media interactions before Nov. 5.

- Search, like, follow, and engage with Forward Janesville and the School District of Janesville's social media communities
 - SDJ: Facebook, X, Instagram, YouTube
 - FJ: Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn
- Share messages from those pages and tag (@) accounts.
- Encourage others to join the cause by posting on your accounts with the sample messaging provided (page 9).

Our kids' future is on the line. If Janesville's upcoming referendums don't pass, the consequences for our students will be severe—fewer educational opportunities, and the plan for facility improvements could fall apart impacting security and classrooms. We might even lose some of our best teachers to other districts. Vote 'YES' on the referendums to keep our schools strong and our community thriving.
